PROM HAVRE.

By the arrival this morning of the packet ship De Rham, Captain Wiederholt, from Havre, the Editors of the Evening Post have received Paris papers to the 19th of June inclusive, and a Havre paper of June 21st. Our former dates from Paris were to the 17th of that month. It appears by the Journal du Commerce, of 19th June, that the Governor of Antwerp and the adjoining provinces had issued a proclamation to the inhabitants of that city advising them not to leave the place, and stating that the hostilities by the Dutch vessels, had been without object or result.—

The Dutch garrison of the forts in the vicinity of Tete de Flandre, had made a surtice in the direction of Twendrecht but were repulsed. Trenches are digging for the protection of the Belgian sentinels from the fire of the Dutch—and musket shots are heard at Intervals, in the quarter of the citadel near the country.
